Interlibrary loans can be requested by OCLC or mail or phone. Use the address shown above or phone or e-mail Wanda Manning. For OCLC on-line requests, use FZT once in the lender string.

An asterisk before the holdings indicates that issues are known to be missing from the run. An asterisk before the final volume indicates that only that volume is incomplete, usually because one or two issues arrived after we canceled our subscription. A dash (--) at the end of the holdings indicates the title is still being received.

Title changes have been indicated where they occur. The terms "continues" and "continued by" are used when the numbering scheme for the journal remains uninterrupted no matter how many times the journal has changed its name. "Supersedes" and "superseded by" apply if the numbering scheme of the first title is terminated, and the new title starts over with its own numbering series, v. 1 #1.

The notation "(ceased)" means that the title is no longer published, and no new title has superseded it. It also indicates that the library received the last volume published.

Some titles are followed by a call number, indicating that all the members of that series are shelved with book literature on the same subject. For example, NATIONAL WILD TURKEY SYMPOSIUM is shelved with QL696.G254 where the books on turkeys are. Some titles have the annotation, [CC], at the end of the entry. This indicates a cataloged series and references the card catalog. Each item is shelved separately by its subject. Look under series name, for example, ORNITHOLOGICAL MONOGRAPHS, to see all items owned in that series, listed numerically. Check call number for location of each item.

Shelving locations in Gabrielson Laboratory:

212 Current issues of most titles are shelved here. The slanted surface of the shelf holds the most recent issue. Lift up on the shelf to find the earlier issues for the current year. Titles that arrive only once a year (annuals) and some free titles are shelved immediately in the stacks.

213 Stacks. Back volumes are shelved here. All titles are in one alphabet.
